where Website Editing comes in We can go beyond your passion and make sure that the words, phrases and paragraphs are accurate.

- Website Designers Many Websites are designed and built by professional Website designers. In most cases the design company requires the customer to supply all the text for the Website. Now you have a beautiful looking site which is pleasing to you and to your customers.
 Your text must be error free to ensure that this wonderful visual impression is backed up with that same excellence in the text. Website Editing is the other important piece in the implementation of a dynamic web presence and a successful on-line business.
- Fees Our fees for Website Editing are quite economical_They are based on the number of words.
- Submission of Work The easiest way to submit your Website for Website Editing is to send a Word file attached to an email_The edited document will be returned to you with all the changes, additions and omissions shown on a new edited Word document_If this is not convenient for you, just send the URLs for the web pages that you want edited_We will extract the text for you_The editing process will be done in Word_An additional $.001 per word will be added to the fee for this method of submission.
- Sample Visit the Sample page to see an example of how your text will look when returned to you after the Website Editing process.
- Turn-around time The time it will take to return your edited text to you will range from two to six days_Sometimes our customers are in a real hurry for the Website Editing process to be completed_This is understandable. We will work with you to ensure that we can meet your goals and deadlines, Make sure to communicate this to us.
- Payment After your work is submitted to us we will calculate the fee Acceptable methods of payment include PayPal, our preferred method, Postal Money Order and certified check. See our payment policy for further information.
- On-going Editing Options As discussed before, many Websites are changed frequently. We can accommodate this situation by offering an ongoing contract option. After we have completed your, initial Website Editing, we will design a contract where you can submit small pieces (usually single pages) of your Site for review and editing. This way, you will know always that there are no errors on your site.
- Click here to submit your site for Website Editing, to make any comments or to ask any questions.
